we experience along our journey.'

Peoples Ponderings

Last weekend I had the joy of attending Adoremus – Eucharistic congress in Liverpool. It was a fantastic experience to gather with thousands of Catholics as we reminded ourselves of the centrality of the Eucharist in our Catholic Faith. In particular the talks by Bishop Robert Barron were superb. You can watch the talks on YouTube and I have posted links on the Parish Twitter account. I was particularly struck by his talk on the Mass. I hope to share some of his insights in future ponderings.

The weekend ended with solemn Mass at the Metropolitan Cathedral followed by a Blessed Sacrament procession around the streets of Liverpool. Archbishop McMahon, in his homily, called on the procession to be a penitential act, with the Church being shaken by the recent scandals. As the clergy headed out of the Cathedral, it started to rain. It is safe to say that the clergy were drenched through as we made our way around the streets. At one point I looked back on the procession and saw drenched Bishops and Priests and then the people of God with their umbrellas and jackets on. It seemed fitting to me that this procession was even more penitential for the clergy as it has been the clergy who have let the people down in recent years. As we approached the Cathedral for Benediction the Sun came out – in a way God was saying, come to me – there is light to be found at the end of this darkness and pain. I pray that the great energy that was felt from Adoremus can be the start of a new renewal of the Church in our Land, a renewal with the Eucharist/God at the centre.

Second Collection

This Sunday is Home Mission Sunday and we will be having a second collection at all Masses. The money collected will support the work of the Home Mission Office, whose vision is to help the local Church make the joy of the Gospel a reality in England and Wales. You can find out more about the work of the Home Mission Office at www.homemission.org.uk

Fr Emmanuel

This is Fr Emmanuel's last weekend in our parishes. I would like to take this opportunity to thank him for his warm welcome when I arrived last year. It was a big change for me to go from being a curate to parish priest and his help and advice has made that transition much easier. He now heads off to Sacred Heart Church in Leicester to assist Mgr John Lally. I am sure that he will have a great time in the City of Leicester (not that I am biased!).

Mass Count

The annual Mass count will take start next weekend and continue over the following three weekends.
